

KETAMINE CENTER OF CENTRAL GEORGIA

Wellness Infusion Program

At Ketamine Center of Central Georgia, we understand that not everyone struggling with mental health challenges experiences the severe mood disorders that warrant the formal protocol of a multiple ketamine infusion series. For those who are looking to optimize their mental well-being and manage mild symptoms of depression, anxiety, or stress, we're excited to offer a new treatment option. Our Wellness Infusion is a single, more-potent infusion priced at $425, specifically designed to address these more subtle but impactful challenges.

Living with stress, anxiety, and emotional fluctuations can often feel like being trapped in an unbreakable cycle. Our Wellness Infusion Program combines evidence-based medical practice with our clinical expertise to focus on emotional regulation and mood enhancement. This treatment aims to foster mental clarity, emotional balance, and overall psychological wellbeing. Whether you're dealing with chronic stress, occasional mood swings, or simply seeking to improve emotional resilience, this approach is designed to meet your unique needs, helping you feel more grounded, energized, and in control. By prioritizing your mental health, you can take an important step toward achieving a more stable and fulfilling life.

If you feel additional infusion sessions may be helpful, "booster" infusions may be available upon consultation with Dr. Greenberg. Additionally, patients may opt to augment the Wellness Infusion with a course of at-home ultra-low-dose ketamine oral dissolvable lozenges for $260/month. Emerging scientific evidence suggests that this may help to cement the cascade of positive neurological changes in your brain that begins during the in-office Wellness Infusion.
